SILVERDRAFT
SUPERCOMPUTING

MATTS DIGITAL and SILVERDRAFT have signed a partnership to promote SILVERDRAFT solutions in France and Europe.

Angers, January 24th, 2022 – SILVERDRAFT, a company that uses a unique supercomputer architecture to address the significant computing and processing needs for high-end rendering, virtual reality and visual effects, and MATTS DIGITAL, a value-added distributor of mixed reality solutions, have signed a partnership to promote SILVERDRAFT solutions in France and Europe.

This partnership agreement includes provisions for MATTS DIGITAL to import and distribute SILVERDRAFT's entire professional range of laptops, and workstations.

Moreover, MATTS DIGITAL will be able to provide after-sales service to its customers for SILVERDRAFT devices via its technical hotline.

“Our computing devices use unparalleled technology and offer a powerful experience. We were very aware of the need for stronger partners to develop our sales, services, and position in Europe. MATTS DIGITAL, with its unique logistical capacity and professional services offering, is one of the key players that will enable us to establish a sustainable presence in Europe. We are delighted to enter this partnership with MATTS DIGITAL.” declares Kurt DOORNAERT, General Manager VP of SILVERDRAFT.

“SILVERDRAFT has developed a real know-how and a solid reputation for laptops, and workstations. The performance of their products is very much in demand by our customers to enjoy an incomparable VR experience. The Laptop, DEMON and HELLION lines perfectly complement the professional Virtual Reality devices we have in our catalog. We are happy to support SILVERDRAFT in France and in Europe and to promote their offer with a wide range of professional services that we have developed to meet the numerous and rigorous demands of our customers.” declares Stephane COURGEON, President of MATTS DIGITAL.

About SILVERDRAFT

SILVERDRAFT is a U.S.-based company that uses HPC architecture to address the significant computational and processing needs of high-end rendering, visual effects, and visualization in the digital age. Rather than focusing on core count or GHz, SILVERDRAFT focuses on the actual end user experience and performance requirements.
